Beauty Takeout

Give your hair routine a makeover! These tricks from New York stylist Antonio Prieto will put a new spin on styling with your favorite tools. BY JILL PERCIA

Brushless Blowout

The tool: a hair dryer (try Conair Ion Shine Ceramic 1875 Styler, $21, conair-store.com)

The move: Apply an antifrizz spray to wet hair (try Sebastian Professional Potion 9 Lite Treatment Styler, $16, at salons). Separate your hair into four equal sections. Tightly twist the first section and hold taut the ends of your hair with your hand, stretching it away from your head. Blow-dry the twist, holding the dryer at various angles so the entire section dries (this can take up to 10 minutes, depending on the thickness of your hair). Coil the twist into a loose bun at your scalp and secure with a clip. Repeat until all four sections are dry, then release the four buns and gently shake out your hair with your fingers.

The result: frizz-free hair with loose, flowy waves

Bend and Twist

The tool: a flatiron (try T3 Pro Mini Pink Flat Iron, $119, t3tourmaline.com)

The move: Grab a 1- to 2-inch section of dry hair. Place the flatiron 2 inches from your ends and wrap the hair once around the bottom plate. Clamp down, then roll the hair around the iron and stop just before your roots. Hold for 5 seconds, then release. Repeat until all of your hair is "bent," then gently shake out the waves with your fingers and mist with a light-hold hairspray.

The result: piecey, beachy waves

Double-Barrel Curl

The tool: a double-barrel curling iron (try Rsession Tools Nau Waver, $180, rsessiontools.com)

The move: Start with clean, dry hair, holding the ends of your hair, wrap a 1- to 2-inch section around one of the barrels, then wrap the same section around the second barrel, making a figure-8 shape with the hair. Hold for 10 seconds, then release. Repeat until all of your hair is curled, then spritz hair with a light-hold hairspray.

The result: voluminous curls
